Manual's Mind, Hand and Heart

Since the beginning of Manual in 1895, "Education for Mind, Hand, and Heart" has been the school's motto—the precept that has governed the planning of our curriculum. Down through our 67 years it has stood the test of changing times and educational needs. Manual's aim is to shape well-rounded individuals.

Mind...

Whether our four years at Manual are spent in college preparation or are our last formal education, our courses are planned to give us the best background possible for our niches in life. Our teachers struggle to fill our minds with facts, but they also help train us for intelligent reasoning, considerate understanding, thoughtful appreciation, and disciplined living. They encourage us to weigh our failures and successes and point us to higher goals.

Hand...

Dexterity of hand, as well as of mind, is a skill that can be developed. In art classrooms, home economics kitchens and sewing rooms, office training labs, industrial arts shops, instrumental music groups, nimble agile fingers become proficient tools. Preparation for jobs, homemaking, vocations, and avocations is important to total education; and at Manual training of hand to do mind's will is ever stressed. Our Student Projects Fair at the close of each school year features our best in these fields, and individual excellence is encouraged and rewarded.

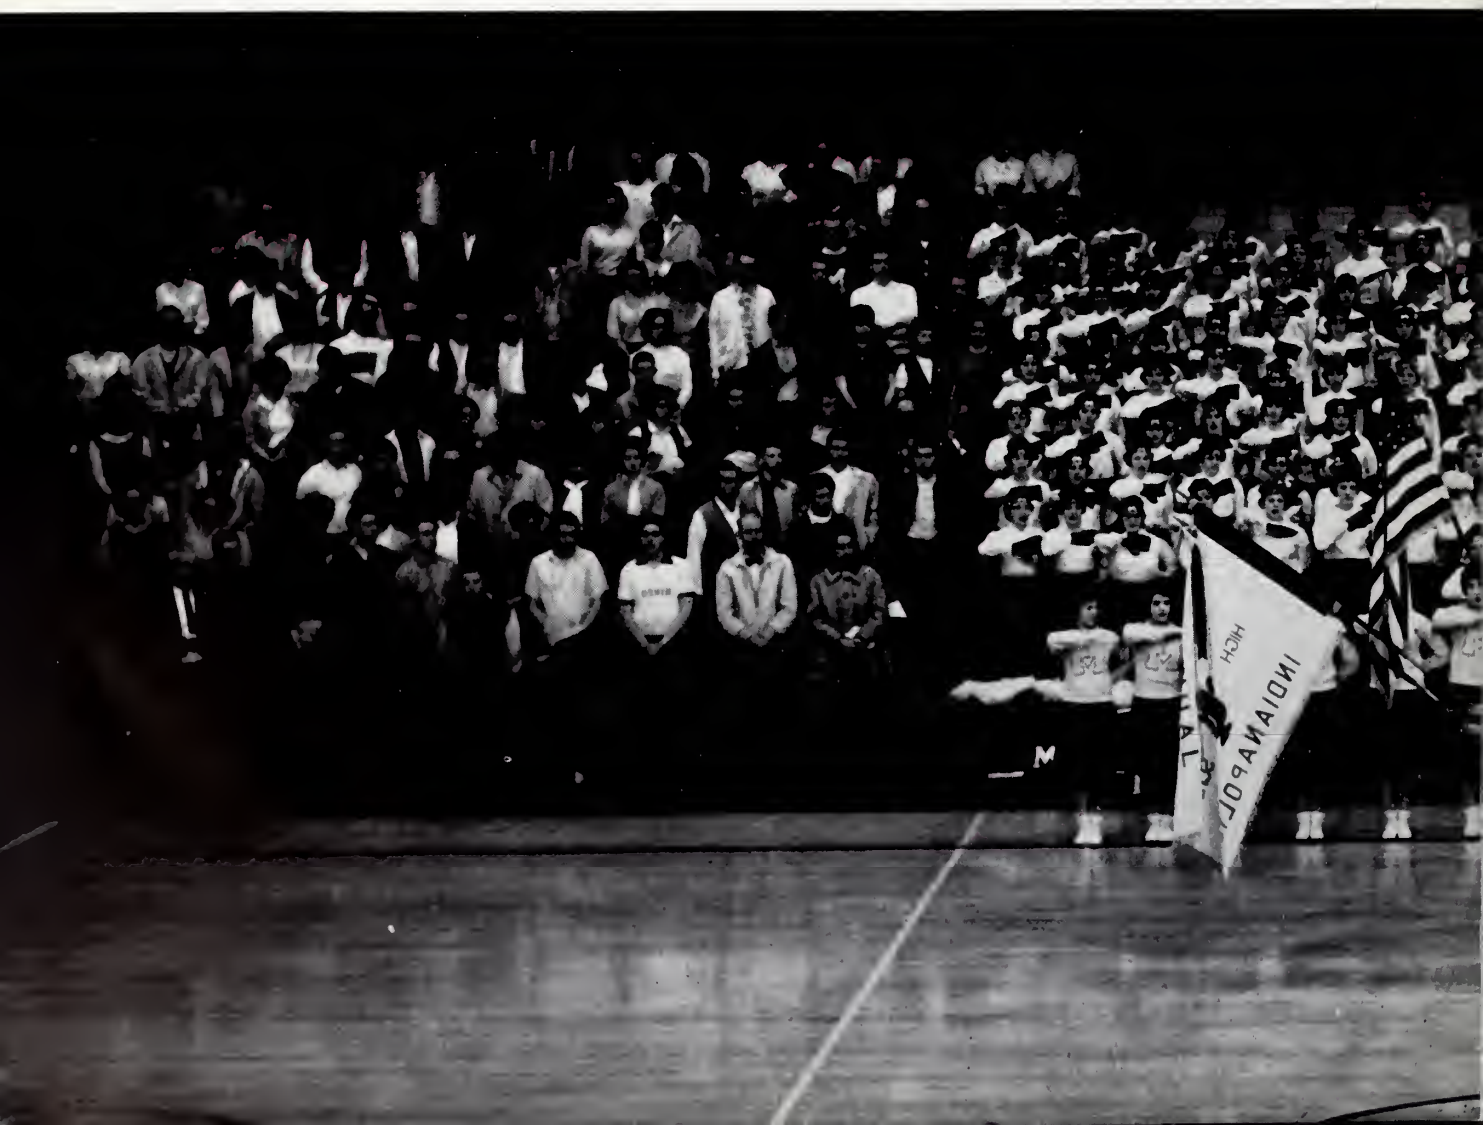

and Heart...

Marching with band or ROTC, enjoying friends and classmates, cheering for Redskin teams, or honoring our country's flag, it's the "heart" that goes into it that makes all the difference. At Manual we develop an abiding love for home, school, and country.

English Study Penetrates All School Work

All freshmen and various English classes have the opportunity of building reading and study skills in the Manual reading laboratory. Above a group of freshmen are using the "pacers" to improve speed and accuracy.

We Manualites spend a total of 58 hours each day using our minds in the field of English. Twenty-four English teachers comprise the biggest department at Manual.

Eight semesters of English are required for students taking the Academic or Fine- and Practical-Arts diploma courses; all others must take six. Courses incorporate grammar, literature, speech, journalism, and dramatics. For those wishing to increase their vocabularies by learning more about word roots and meanings, there is an Etymology class.

All entering freshmen are required to take one semester of orientation. Half of the semester students boost their reading ability and study skills in the reading laboratory. The other nine weeks are spent "learning Manual," taking I. Q. and aptitude tests, and planning four-year programs.

In the spring, outstanding English students are recognized on English Honors Day. Selected students also participate in outside competition such as the Indiana University Regional English contest, and essay contests.

Journalism study in English Vg includes interviews with such celebrities as Miss Diane Hunt, 1961 "500 Festival" Queen, who was student teaching at Manual.

New this year, in the Bookstore, is a selection of "paperbacks," which offer us good reading. Gary Richards, Larry Markle, Diane Brown, and Sondra Coffey choose.

French I students follow along in their textbooks and respond as they listen through their ear phones. The language lab equipment enables French and Spanish pupils to hear lessons taped by native speakers and record their own voices. Through the equipment, teachers can converse with the entire class or with an individual.

Languages Sharpen Minds, Train Memories

Presenting a Roman play for their Advanced Latin class was a project for these toga-clad Manualites. Ricki Magnes, Marlene Stachow, Brenda Richardson, Virginia Speck, and Sue Woolwine wrote and presented the play in both Latin and English.

Frogs, Test Tubes Inspire 'Scientists'

An exposed beating heart shows biology students the blood-pumping function of this main organ.

In studying pollination, Martha Moore traces the route of the sperm for Fay Galyan in this large flower section.

Manual's Science Department urges interested pupils on to higher scientific achievements by offering everything from training in the correct scientific attitude to the study of energy. Freshman Science and Physical Science are both non-laboratory courses, usually taken by students not on academic diplomas. Biology is a study of all living things and their biological relationships to each other. Many live animals are kept in the class rooms for students to view. Chemistry, one of our three laboratory courses, is an actual study of the composition of matter and the nature of chemical change. Besides his regular work, each chemistry student has a project. The best of these are taken to the annual Science Fair, this year, April 7. Physics is a study of energy with special emphasis on its mathematical meaning.

Cathy Nolting and Bob Surber work with Semi-Micro laboratory equipment which is being used for the first time in Indianapolis this year. Two students share a reagent tray which makes the chemicals more easily available to the students as well as easier to handle.

Math Classes Grow with Space Age

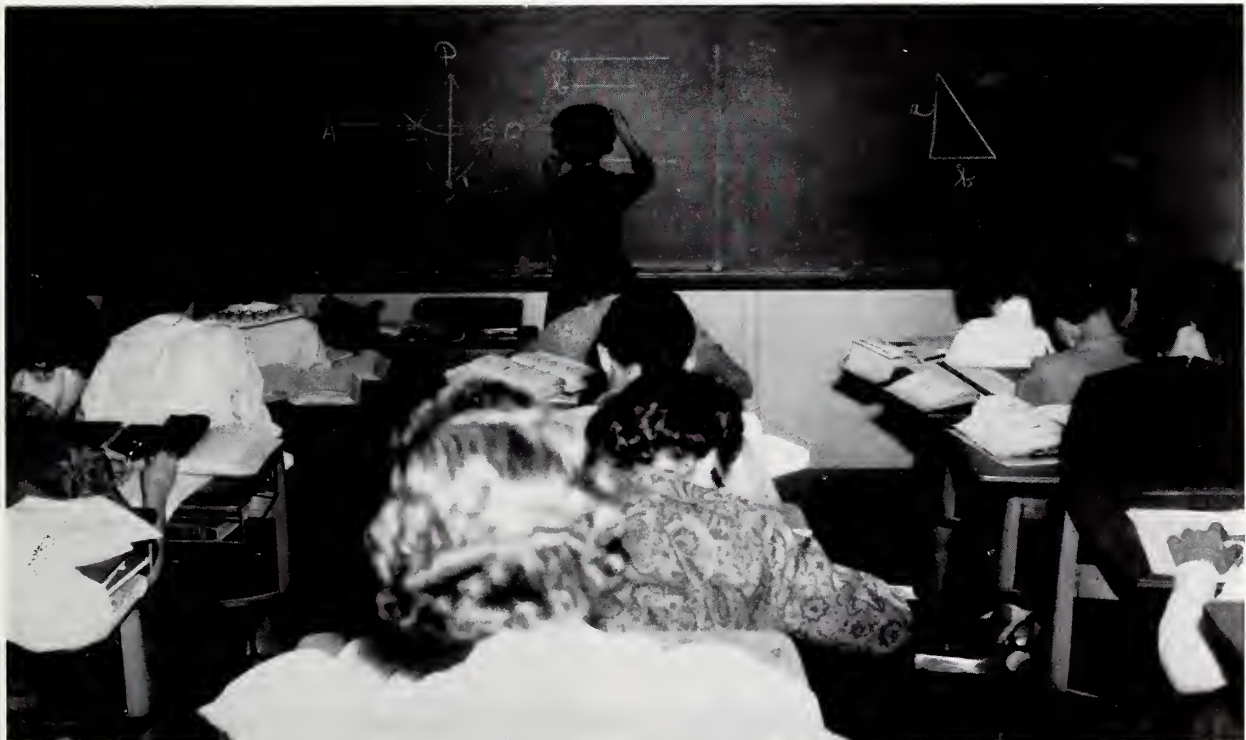

With the ever-increasing emphasis being placed on "the Space Age," high schools are focusing more and more attention on their math programs. Manual's math instruction ranges from general and business math to analytic geometry. Algebra I and II, Plane Geometry, Algebra III, Solid Geometry, Trigonometry, and Algebra IV make up the succession of courses. These help to prepare the prospective college student for further education, and many boys majoring in Industrial Arts concentrate on math.

Students especially interested in math can join the Math Honor Club. This club is open only to students, other than fresh freshman, who receive A's or B's in math courses. Mrs. Jennie Howe, the club's sponsor, always plans to have a challenging math problem available for the attending members. Field trips and guest speakers provide interesting instruction and diversion from the weekly meetings.

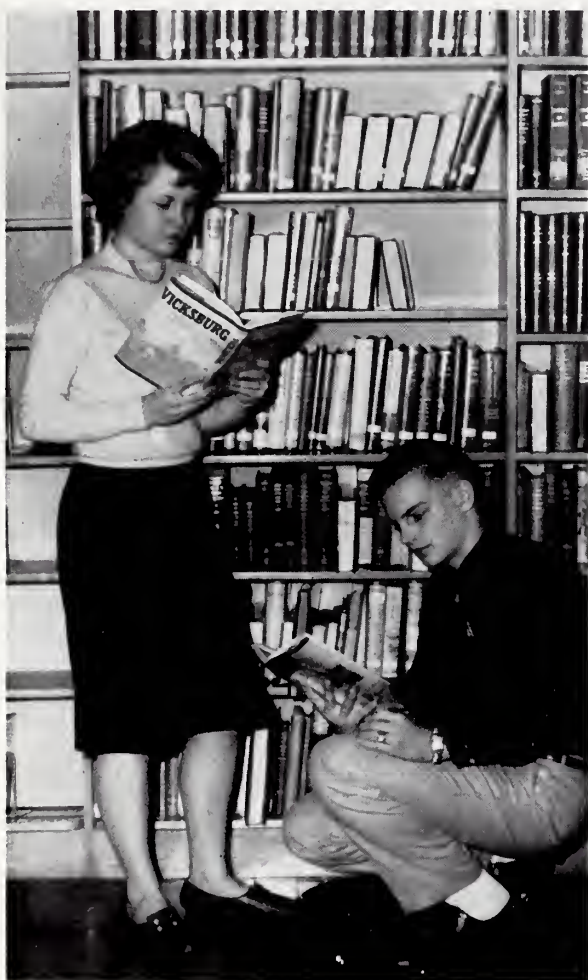

Mr. Fred Ahlemeyer clears up a problem for Jayne Perkon, one of his geometry students, in a conference.

Social Studies Orbit 'One World'

Manual's Social Studies Department offers students one of the most complete educations possible in this field. Citizenship, offered to freshmen, develops in students an appreciation for their rights as Americans and an understanding of American Capitalism. World History gives pupils a panoramic view of history from prehistoric times to the present; United States History teaches students of the social, economic, cultural, and governmental aspects of our country's history. While United States government emphasizes the workings of our government and our rights and responsibilities toward it, economics is a study of our modern economic institutions. Psychology, offered to seniors, helps the student to better understand himself and others; and International Relations delves into the forces that influence and create the world of today for social studies majors.

Manualites are in keeping with the trend in modern education. This is the second year that Manual has participated in the Midwest Experimental Program with Airborne Television instruction, which we initiated in Indianapolis in the spring of 1960. These broadcasts, which serve five states, are telecast by means of video tape from an airplane flying over northern Indiana. Special classes in United States and World History tuned in daily except Fridays, which were reserved for discussion, lecture, and testing, or whatever the teacher thought necessary.

Future Home Economists Develop Skills

Visiting Major General Jonathon Seaman, Commander of the 6th Army Corps, and Manual Principal C. Edgar Stahl are given the "royal treatment" by Dwight Kendrick, a member of the Boys' Foods Class.

Enjoyable classes, training, and experience are the themes under which the Home Economics Department performs. Future homemakers are offered courses in sewing, cooking, and social living. In sewing classes, the girls learn to make clothing for each member of the family; advanced clothing teaches skilled tailoring.

Food classes offer the opportunity for pupils to prepare well-balanced and savory meals. They also learn the art of setting a table correctly, planning party festivities and teas, and serving meals attractively. Courses in Social Practice emphasize good grooming and pleasing clothes designs. Boys also receive instruction in the Boys' Foods Class. These classes gain practical experience when they prepare food and serve it to visiting dignitaries. The goal of developing true skills can soon be achieved since the labs are supplied with the latest of modern appliances.

Sophomore Janice Greer displays one facet of the skills she has acquired in sewing class as she pins a pattern.

These girls are sampling the food which they had prepared during their daily activities in a cooking class.

A race for space sent pupils in two Typing III classes "off and running" for speed and accuracy. Lynne Simmerman and Jo Anne Brown place their rockets.

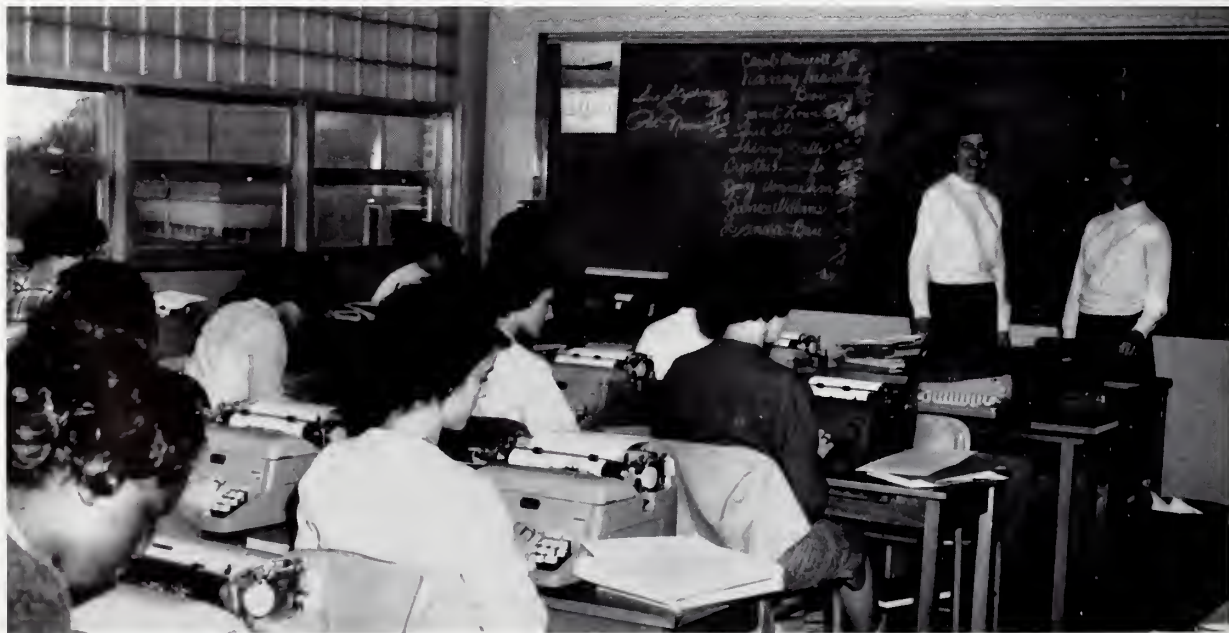

Pupils Make Ready For Business Life

Manual's Business Department provides the opportunity to develop talent in various business skills. Many of the students enrolled in these classes plan to go into business upon graduation, but others are preparing for college note taking and typing of term papers.

Typing is one of the first courses, usually taken in the sophomore year. These students receive instruction and practice in the use of the dictaphone. Business students also learn to operate other machines such as the multi-graph, ditto, and mimeograph machines. Machine calculation and office training are advanced courses. In office training, pupils learn to be efficient in secretarial work, and are given the opportunity to work in Manual's office. Practice is obtained by the class' producing tests and forms for school use.

Learning while teaching. Miss Diane Hunt, student teacher from Indiana University, aids Miss Phyllis Greve, of the Business Education Department, with whom she worked in instructing a typing class.

Busy Hands Create with Purpose

After firing their pottery over night, Larry Stimson and Mike Vas Binder remove it from the kiln in Craft Class.

Our Art Department offers many modes of self-expression to students with artistic talent. Shaping a bowl on the potter's wheel, sketching still life, or dabbling in water colors are among the many opportunities for developing skill in art. In craft art courses pupils work in plastics, leather, textiles, clay, and other media. Jewelry classes make cuff links, earrings, rings, bracelets, and other articles. The Art Production class, which originated in 1948 on a suggestion from Miss Gladys Denney who still teaches it, handles much of the art work for the school. In addition to the production of Senior Arm Bands, the class competes during the year in designing posters to advertise such programs as the Musical, Redskin Revue, and Senior Play.

'Shops' Prepare Us for Jobs

Manual's Industrial Arts Department has trained students for the industrial world since the beginning of the school in 1895. Starting with general shop, an industrial arts major can specialize in metal, machine, wood, or auto shop, printing, mechanical drawing or electronics. Mr. Edward Maybury now heads the department.

Sophomore Bill Wotring uses a "gun" to spray a coat of varnish on the wall bracket he made in Wood Shop.

Using the pan-brake is one of the skills Sophomore Bob Simpson and Freshman Kenny Johnson learn in Shop.

Demonstrating balancing skill, Linda Abrams, fourth year gym student, takes a walk on her hands.

'Phys Ed' Promotes Good Health, Poise

Although physical education is required for only one year, many students take it for four years. Classes for both girls and boys are in session every period throughout the day.

Besides the class activities — calisthenics, apparatus, tumbling, and dancing — the girls also engage in intramural sports sponsored by Miss Theo Parr and Miss Elena Raglin. Intramural activities include basketball, volley ball, softball, archery, tennis, and badminton.

In the spring, boys have an opportunity to participate in the Decathlon Contest. Points are accumulated by mastering skills on the apparatus, in exercises, and in sports. Intramural sports, such as basketball and bowling, are sponsored by Mr. Gene Harvey.

Helping to build strong bodies, Miss Theo Parr includes calisthenics in her class' activities.

Mr. Oral Bridgford uses Roy Lashley as his model for demonstrating the correct techniques for the back flip.

Our Battle Group Stars at Review

Manual's ROTC Battle Group was cited last spring at Federal Inspection with an "honor" rating, when the cadets passed in review before a visiting general. Manual was one of two city schools to be named an Honor School.

Every Thursday and Friday nearly 300 boys dress in full uniform. On Friday they are inspected by one of six honorary cadets, girls chosen by the ROTC. In addition to marching in the Veterans Day and Armed Forces Day Parades, the cadets serve the school as messengers, ushers, doormen, and guards at ball games, plays, and P-TA functions. "Sharp-shooting" cadets belong to the Rifle Team. Members of the ROTC History Club hear lectures about military great and major battles.

Maj. Gen. Jonathan Seaman, 6th Corps Commander, congratulates Cadet 2nd Lt. Roy Lashley on winning first place in the City Knock Out Drill. Honorary Cadets Marvia Johnson and Nancy Karstedt smile approval.

During a solemn moment at Federal Inspection, cadets and honorary cadets from the Battle Group salute the American flag. School is dismissed while the student body watches the Inspection from the football bleachers.

Band 'Marches' to Seventh Kiwanis Cup

For the seventh time in eight years, our tremendous Manual Redskin Band won the Kiwanis Trophy as the Outstanding High School Football Band in Indianapolis. During the football season, representatives from the Kiwanis Club, unannounced, attended games at all the city high schools to judge the performance of each band. The recipient of this award is announced at the annual Kiwanis All-City Football Awards Banquet.

Preceded by the baton-twirling Warrior-ettes, our Manual Marchers displayed their skill in thrilling half-time shows at all football games, often with the aid of an "Indian," his horse, and the flag girls. These Redskins practiced long and hard to prepare a different and exciting performance for each game.

This year's band provided both entertainment and enthusiastic support throughout the year. Under the direction of Mr. William D. Kleyla and the leadership of Drum Major Dennis Eickhoff, versatility and quality have been key-words in performances. The Marching Redskins have copped twenty-nine first-place awards in the past eight years.

Following any of their flashy half-time performances, these Manual Redskin marchers return to their seats in the rhythmic cadence that characteristically identifies them on the marching field or in a parade.

During one of their thrilling half-time shows at a football game, the Manual Redskin Marching Band "struts its stuff" in an intricate pattern of precision marching, part of the Home-coming "spectacular."

Seniors 'Doll Up' for Special Days

Senior arm bands attract the attention of Senior Class voters, Dave Whitson, president; Jackie Hall, secretary; Ron Cooper; and Sandy Tucker, vice-president.

Colorful dress-up days highlight our senior year. Wednesday, October 18, was Senior Day — the annual affair when the seniors "showed off" for underclassmen in the latest in suits and new fall dresses, complete with traditional arm bands and roses. Class officers participated in the color code program during Home Room, and the class president was presented with the senior gavel at a business meeting in the Cafeteria, after school. Busy seniors ended the day with a party and a dance after the business meeting.

Tables were turned on teachers, Tuesday, November 7, as seniors and other pupils took over as administrators, department heads, classroom teachers, and staff members for Turn-About Day. Student "administrators-for-a-day" stayed with their assigned teachers during the entire day, observing the daily routine and problems that have to be coped with. From 1 to 3 o'clock in the afternoon the students and teachers participating were invited to a refreshment hour sponsored by the P-TA in the social practice room.

Running a school for more than 2,000 students is a big job as Turn-About staff members find out. "Principal" Pat Nixon discusses one of her duties with Chief Administrator C. Edgar Stahl while "Vice-principals" Rex Hedegard and Jane Graham give her moral support. Steve Miller learns the cafeteria manager trade from Mrs. Edith Hoffman.

52 Counselors Help Us Look at Future

Total education includes wise planning for the future. On Wednesday, February 14, fifty-two guest speakers representing colleges, industry, business, and professional life, came to Manual to talk with pupils about careers from agricultural science to X-Ray technology, and about colleges from Ball State to Wabash. Freshmen and sophomores attended career sessions while juniors and seniors went to college or terminal education classes.

The day began with Mr. Howard Thrall, director of counseling, briefing ROTC Honorary Cadets who acted as hostesses. Receiving his instruction in the picture on the right are Sandy Head, Elsa Maschmeyer, Joan Toenjes, Marvia Johnson, Gloria Cooper, and Nancy Karstedt. In the second picture, girls who are interested in a career in foods hear Miss Marjorie Zimmerman from Stokely Van Camp, while in the third picture Mr. Felix DeHebreard talks about building contracting.

Miss Mildred Sweet, head of student nurses at Methodist Hospital, and Manual Grads Sherry Braun, '61, and Sandra Hoffman, '60, advise Junior Brenda Richardson, who is interested in nursing, on the schooling it will take.

Homecoming 'Know How' Shows Howe

King and Queen Manual 9th, Rex Hedegard and Jackie Hall, prepare to walk down the royal carpet, after being crowned by last year's king and queen, Jim Cummings and Bonnie McKinney. Papoose Sue Fisher carried Jackie's crown.

On September 22, Manual welcomed its alumni for the annual Home-coming celebration at Delevan Smith Field. Freshman Football players Kenny Beisinger and Jerry Lewis rolled out the white carpet for the ten candidates for King Manual IX and his Queen. During the gala half-time ceremonies Principal C. Edgar Stahl announced Rex Hedegard as King and Jackie Hall, Queen. They were crowned by last year's royalty, Jim Cummings and Bonnie McKinney. Freshmen Papooses Sandy Fisher and Darrell Fields carried the crowns. The Redskin Marching Band led half-time ceremonies, under the direction of Drum Major Dennis Eickhoff. They presented their rendition of "Miss America," while Mr. Wendell Mertz sang. "Girl of My Dreams," also sung by Mr. Mertz, was accompanied by the Girls Glee Club. The 48-0 victory over Howe capped the ceremonies. Other candidates were Patty Oliver, Sandy Head, Mary Cromwell, Sandy Tucker, Jim Hamner, Steve Richards, Mark Zaenglein, and Mark Williams.

Dances Intersperse Weekly Routines

Attending dances with fellow classmates is one of the most thrilling experiences of the year. This year began with the Pigskin Prom highlighting the football season. Underclass pictures were sold at the Pic Parade, and after game dances accented the basketball games. The Choir-sponsored Snow Whirl added color to the Christmas season, and Martha and George reigned at the Glee Club's Cherry Tree Hop. ROTC cadets squired their best girls to the Military Ball for an evening of fun. The Junior and Senior Proms proved to be experiences to be cherished for many years to come. The John Henry Hop at which The Ivian was issued was the last all-school dance.

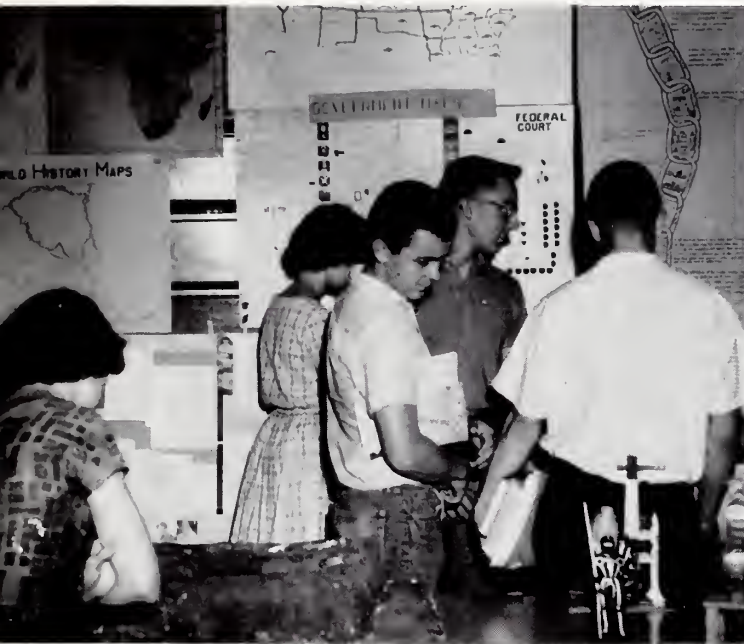

At the Ivian-sponsored "Pic Parade," Yearbook Editor Linda Abrams crowns King Ivan, Dave Whitson. Queen Ann, Sandy Tucker, reigned with him over the event.

Among couples enjoying the Choir's Snow Whirl are Doug Goode, Karen Smith, Judy McBride, Bob Wire, Jerry Steadham, Marty Melton, Sally Davis, and Bob Surber.

Leading the Snow Whirl's coronation dance is the royal couple, Ruthanne McClain and Ron Cooper. Queen Snowflake and King Jack Frost reigned for the first time this year.

We 'Parade' Talents at Spring Fair

Teachers and students toured the gym on the morning of the Projects Fair examining department projects. Those of us who were lucky returned later in the day.

Each year at the close of the spring semester, examples of students' work are displayed at the annual Projects Fair. This "show" offers an opportunity for all departments to present their wares, whether they be creative writing from the classroom or creative projects from laboratory, shop, or studio. All entries are judged; and first, second, and third place ribbons are awarded in every category. In this way competition among students is stimulated, encouraging them to produce their best work.

Classes visit the Fair throughout the school day. A planned P-TA meeting brings parents and friends to see the exhibits that evening.

Displays of the English Department include themes, poetry, term reports, notebooks, and projects made by foreign language students. Exhibits from the Art Department illustrate the work done in crafts and painting. Home Economics present samples of the handiwork of its seamstresses and cooks. Displays from the Industrial Arts and Science Departments give a picture of the activities students participate in, in their various fields.

Looking at animal heads minus the flesh attracted Manualites to this science display of skull comparison.

Bob Humes demonstrates his complicated-looking "ham" radio equipment by talking with a friend in Southport.

Parents Cater to Hungry Sports Fans

Moms and Dads are loyal Redskin fans and follow our activities from the first football game in September to Senior Vespers and Commencement in June. Parents who join the Parent-Teacher Association and Dads Club work together with aid to Manual as their goal. Many P-TA and Dads Club members get all "wrapped up" in the projects and events they sponsor to raise funds for the school. The P-TA's major money-making project of the year is the "Pow Wow." Features of this annual family night at Manual, which was on April 28, this spring, include dinner in the Cafeteria, games and booths in the Gym, a vaudeville show and a record hop. Dads Club members maintain the concession stands at Delevan Smith Field during football season and cater to hungry basketball fans in the Gym. Other activities of the Dads include their annual Fish Fry and Spaghetti Supper. Funds raised benefit all students.

"Filling 'em up" at cold Friday night football games is Mr. Willis Overton, Dads Club member. Concession stands are rushed for coffee and cocoa during half time.

Redskin Revue Features Four Fantasies

Sharon Chenoweth pantomimed her way to the "Best Intermission Act" award as "Hard-Hearted Hanna."

Manual's 33rd annual vaudeville, the Redskin Revue, brought out the "hams" for a two night stand on March 23 and 24. Student actors, writers, musicians, stage hands, and costume designers worked diligently for weeks to insure the success of the four-act presentation. Performers sprouted horns, halos, and wings and "feelers" as they prepared to take the roles of devils, angels, and bugs in one of the most unusual shows to take to the Manual stage. Only the cast of "Candid Camelot," the winning act, played "real people." Mr. William Kleyla and his talented Dance Band provided accompaniments. Awards for best performers went to Steve Goad and Martha Dexter; best vocalist, Billie Meyer; and best comic portrayal, Charlie Creasser. Cindy Eaton trained the best chorus line ("Candid Camelot"); the Grasshoppers from "Spring Fever" were judged the best group, and Sharon Chenoweth won "best intermission act."

"Candid Camelot," written and directed by Jerry Steadham and Bob Surber, was named the "Best Act." The story opened in the ancient city of Camelot. King Arthur and his court were faced with the threat of a "50 dragaton cross-bow" in their rival country, "Krushya." The faculty sponsors were Mr. Thomas Taylor and Mr. John Krueger.

"Turn on the Heat," written and directed by Mary Beth Fill and Virginia Blumhardt, was about two men and a woman who were sent to "hades" by mistake. Mrs. Jennie Howe and Mrs. Jean Howell were the faculty sponsors.

"Spring Fever," directed and written by Sue Elrod and Linda Thomas, told of a lady bug and beetle and the problems of their marriage in the garden. Mr. Marvin Thorpe and Mr. Ronald Stoner were faculty sponsors.

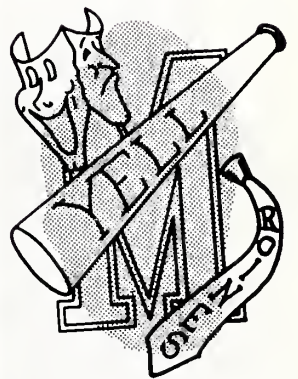

"Babes in Angeland," sponsored by Sharon Burk and Ruth Hackleman, involved a basketball player who went to heaven and caused many problems. Faculty sponsors were Mrs. Janet Smallwood and Mr. Robert Canner.

Mind, Hand, and Heart

Our education rounds out with participation in co-curricular activities to which we apply our minds and lend our hands "with all our hearts." Organizations that provide chances for service to school, fellow-pupils, and community are favorites. These group activities foster leadership and give us a feeling of "belonging."

ACTIVITIES

Roines and Masoma, the honorary organizations for senior boys and girls, respectively, have memberships based on scholarship, character, and service. Organized in 1914, admittance to these exclusive clubs comes through application only and requires personal recommendations from two teachers. Both Roines and Masoma meet bi-weekly, and together they sponsor the Pigskin Prom. Both clubs assist during many school functions, such as freshman registration day, when they help the newcomers familiarize themselves with Manual. On Alumni Night, Roines members manned a check room for guests; Masomas set up and decorated the tables and served in the dining room.

During each Christmas season, Roines adds much to the Christmas feeling by putting a large wreath above Manual's main entrance.

The Masomas semi-annually sponsor a Freshman Mixer which helps the new girls get acquainted. They also presented a style show in the gym on December 13 to show proper school and party clothes.

Grades Come First With Honor Society

The National Honor Society is a nationwide organization whose purpose is to create a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in high school students.

Manual's chapter of the National Honor Society is strictly an honor organization, having its membership based on scholarship, service, leadership, and character. To be eligible for National Honor Society a student must have spent at least one full semester at Manual. Junior applicants must have a 6.75 scholastic grade average, while seniors are only required to have a 6.25 grade average. Ten per cent of the Senior Class and three per cent of the Junior Class make up the maximum number taken in each year.

Lighting the torch in preparation for National Honor Society initiation are members Mark Zaenglein, Dennis Eickhoff, Dave Whitson, and Pat Nixon. Supplying the bulbs are Elsa Maschmeyer, Jane Graham, Alice Morris.

Student Affairs Board Promotes Activities

The Student Affairs Board is a representative organization of each of the four classes at Manual. Through a school-wide election, four representatives of each class are chosen as members. Assisting the Board are representatives from each Home Room. Originally organized in 1948, the Student Affairs Board provides entertainment for the student body and helps with school campaigns and problems. Meetings are every other week in rotating periods. Mr. John Patten, Mr. Robert Doyal, and Mr. John Ciochina are faculty sponsors. The Board sponsors such activities as Home-coming and the after-basketball-game dances. This year certain designated Board members are representatives on a committee which is working on the project of having a foreign exchange student attend Manual. Mark Williams, president of Manual's Student Affairs Board, is also president of the Marion County Student Council.

SAB after-game dancers gather around to watch "Rockin' Robby," Senior Bob Lloyd, as he sets the turntable in motion. Assistants David Mills and Dale Smiley helped Bob spin records as he disc-jockeyed at all the SAB dances in the Cafeteria during basketball season.

Language Clubs Add Spice to Study

Manual's three foreign language clubs offer fun-filled and entertaining hours to the students who seek extra-curricular activities that will supplement their classroom lessons. Our three clubs are the French Club, the Spanish Club, and the Olympian Council.

The French Club, sponsored by Miss Jan Meikel, started off this year's activities with a picnic. They also treated themselves to French food "au restaurant francais" and attended a full length French movie.

At this year's Christmas party, Mr. Ed Hegarty and the Spanish Club celebrated by breaking the traditional Spanish pinata. As a club project, each member corresponds regularly with a Spanish or Mexican pen-pal.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Audrey Cronkite and Mrs. Nancy Mountjoy, the Latin Club members enact plays set in Rome.

Diane Lindley displays the bust of Napoleon she modeled as a French Club project. Officers looking on are Karen Smith, president; Susan Peters, treasurer; vice-president JoNell Rugenstein and Sponsor Miss Jan Meikle.

Spanish Club projects hold the attention of these officers. President Bill O'Brien and Vice-president Jack Palladay inspect them with Secretary Mary Stienecker.

Pointing out old Rome to Latin Club officers is vice-president Nancy Broz. Kathy Burks is treasurer; Vaida Mikits, program chairman; Martha Melton, secretary; Pat Nixon, president; and Judy Shafer, historian.

Mikes, Grease Paint Attract Many 'Stars'

"On the air" for WMHS are Radio Club members Donna Berry and Charles Shade. Bob Humes takes over at the turntable and sound equipment for the broadcast.

Manual's own radio station, WMHS, broadcasts news, music, and special announcements every morning from 7:20 until 7:30. The Radio Speech Club, sponsored by Mrs. Mildred Haskens, prepares and presents these programs. The news broadcasts benefit those teachers and students who haven't time to read the morning newspaper before reporting for 7:40 classes, as the program gives both local and international news.

National Thespians is an honorary organization for which Manualites qualify on a point system. Our Thespian Troupe 1492, sponsored by Mr. Fred Bennett, requires that students maintain a "B" average. Points are accumulated by participating in the many dramatic activities at Manual. Productions out-side-of-school may also be counted. Manualites earn points by taking part in such dramatics as the Redskin Revue, Mask and Wig plays, the Tee Pee Talent Parade, and the annual operetta.

Manual's stage crew, under Mr. Carl Wright, spends many hours designing, building, and painting sets for Manual stagings. Nothing seems too difficult for them to try; for example, the giant-size gardener's legs that stalked across stage for Redskin Revue.

National Thespian Society members Bill Styring and Gene Voelkel gaze at the cathedral in the play "Why the Bells Ring" presented for the Christmas Aud.

Stage crew workers, displaying their own handiwork, are Ron Payne, Mike Shea, Mike Sheridan, Jerry Schnittzius, Max Redcliff, Frank Smith, and John Gimbel.

Harvey 'Cavorts' as Mask and Wig Lead

Footlights, make-up, sets, and costumes are all familiar to the members of the Mask and Wig. The students and their sponsor, Mrs. Mildred Haskens, spend many hours preparing for the plays they present as public performances on the auditorium stage.

The curtain rose on Mask and Wig's production of "Harvey" the evening of October 22. The main character was a six-foot, white rabbit named Harvey. Harvey actually lived only in the imagination of his best friend, Elwood P. Dowd; and no one else actually ever saw him. The play is built around the unusual experiences of Elwood and Harvey and the effect these had on others. Bill Styring did an outstanding job in portraying Elwood.

On March 6, Mask and Wig presented the "Importance of Being Ernest" after school in the auditorium. The play is a romantic satire on late nineteenth century English society. It was directed by Donna Berry.

Sharon Sage transforms Bill Styring to "Algernon Moncreff" for "The Importance of Being Ernest." Iris Ryan inspects the work while Tim Brown waits his turn.

Booster Keeps Us 'In the Know' Since 1912

Mr. Tevie Jacobs, President of Marion County Tuberculosis Association, presents the first-place trophy to the Manual Booster for best local coverage of TB to Editor Jane Graham, Judy McBride, and Karen Smith.

Recording the "news and views" of Manual-lites, the Booster keeps more than 2,200 students and faculty members informed of important events and interesting "goings on" at Manual. Staff members gain extra training by attending clinics in the city and state. Jane Graham, editor-in-chief; Jerry Steadham, second page editor; and Dianna Brier, business manager, attended the Indiana University Journalism Institute during the summer. Jane participated in an observation day at the Indianapolis Times, where she worked with the Assistant Managing Editor. In competition with all Marion County schools, the Booster was rated over-all winner in the Marion County TB Christmas Seal Contest. Three staff members also won first places: Judy McBride, with a feature story; Jane Graham, news story; and Karen Smith, editorial. A safe-driving campaign kicked off by an Auditorium program was sponsored by the Booster in April.

Unfurling their red felt banner, which identifies the Booster reporters in the press box at basketball games, are Chuck Williams, photographer, Mike Rogers, Gene Voelkel, Lynn Kinkade, and Sports Editor Ken Scharfe.

Mike Rogers, Carlene Booth, Marlene Stachow, Kenny Scharfe, Jane Graham, Karen Smith, and Sondra Coffey met in the "well house" on the Franklin College Campus while attending the Indiana High School Press Convention October 27 and 28.

News Bureau Reports for City Papers

In addition to getting out The Booster and the Ivian, the publications staff is responsible for keeping Manual events in city and neighborhood newspapers. The seven-member Manual News Bureau handles this job. Four girls who write for The Booster also send stories of honored *Manual*ites, classroom projects, plays, dances, and other activities to the city papers. Marlene Stachow, correspondent to the Indianapolis News; Cindy Eaton, the Times; Karen Smith, the Teen Star; and Linda Schroeder, the Southside Spotlight, look ahead to future activities, watch deadlines, write up the news, and send in their "strings," a list of stories they have written, to receive their paychecks.

Ken Scharfe, Booster sports editor, is in charge of seeing that box scores and interesting points of home football and basketball games are called in to the downtown papers. Mike Rogers does this for the News and Star; and Gene Voelkel, for the Times.

Getting Manual news out to city papers is the job of News Bureau reporters Gene Voelkel, Marlene Stachow, Linda Schroeder, Cindy Eaton, Ken Scharfe, and Karen Smith.

Population Explosion Keeps 'Ivian' Growing

As Manual grows, so grows the Ivian. Since the school's move to its present site, the student body has increased from 1,750 to more than 2,100, and the size of the Ivian has jumped from 96 to 144 pages. Planning for the Ivian begins almost as soon as the last year's book is ready for the press, as staffers "rack their brains" to think up an eye-catching theme. The editor and several staff members attend the Indiana University High School Journalism Institute for two weeks during the summer to organize plans and make a preliminary "dummy." This year the annual Ivian campaign was officially begun October 25 with a Carnival Midway Auditorium show. Barker Bill Styring presented bits of the "big attractions" found in the '62 Ivian. Underclass pictures were sold at the Pic Parade, November 4, where Dave Whitson and Sandy Tucker reigned as King Ivan and Queen Ann. The completed Ivians are distributed every spring at the John Henry Hop.

Ivian staff members Patty Koopman, Sondra Coffey, Jayne Perkon, and Mary Shotts watch JoNell Rugenstein and Sue Kendrick proofread the album section.

Bob LaFara, Ken Scharfe, Chuck Williams, Gene Voelkel, and Karen Smith help Ivian Business Manager Sharon Chenoweth think up interesting advertising copy.

Band Adds to Fame In Parade or Swing

Manual's award-winning band is actually four in one. The marching band is the largest with sixty-four members filling out the ranks. They can be seen displaying their talents while performing at half-time shows during football season.

The Pep Band is a select group of nineteen from the marching band. They play at all home basketball games, adding spark and life to the Pep Club and crowd. Their frequent outbursts of "Onward, Manual" boost the team and Manual spirit.

The Dance Band's biggest job of the year is providing music for the Redskin Revue.

Only the best musicians find seats in the Concert Band. All four bands are under the direction of Mr. William D. Kleyla.

The Pep Band, nineteen strong, provides lively music for home basketball games and adds enthusiasm to pep sessions. Their new-this-year uniforms are white Manual jackets, black slacks, red socks, and white sneakers.

Glee Club Girls Sing for Special Events

The Girls' Glee Club is one of Manual's main performing vocal groups. Last October 25, the Glee Club aided the Ivian Staff with the Ivian show by singing several numbers.

At Christmas time, they joined with the choir in singing Christmas carols on Monument Circle. From there, they sang in the office of the Board of School Commissioners and in various downtown department stores. The Glee-ettes, a select group from the Glee Club, sang as part of a Christmas program for the Women's Personnel Executives of the city.

March 28 Manual's Glee Club joined the Girls' Glee Clubs from all the Indianapolis High Schools to present an All-City Glee Club Concert at Washington High School.

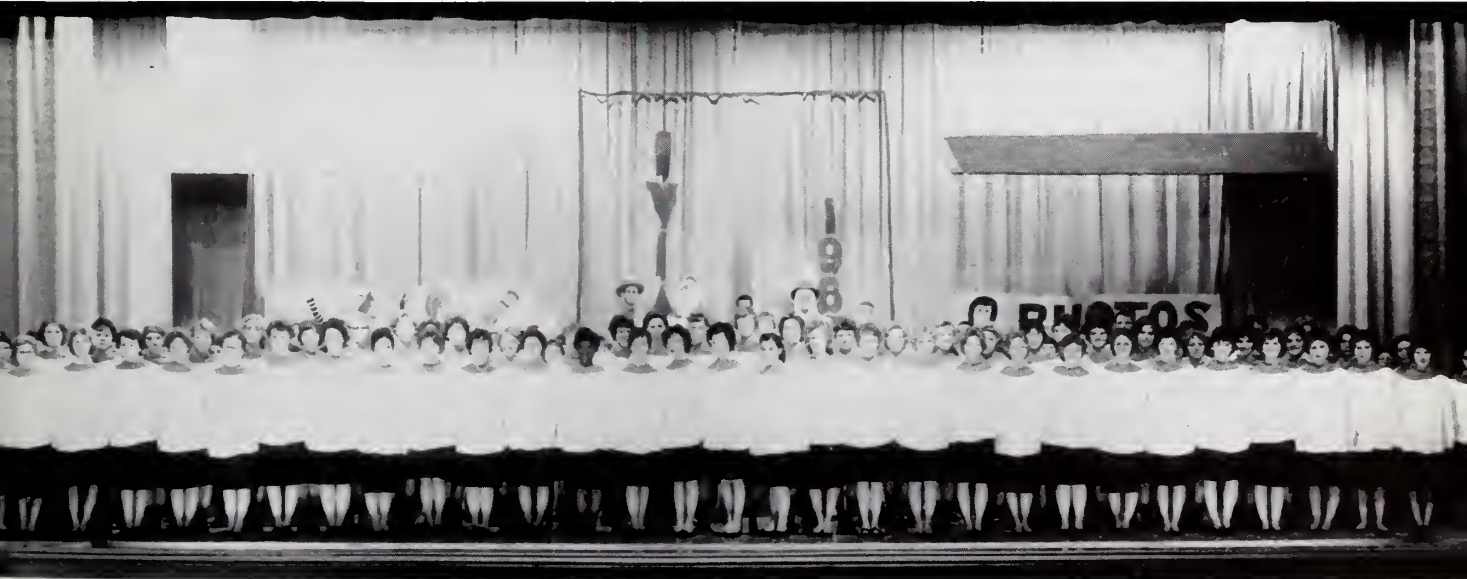

For the fourth time, Glee Club girls sang parodies for a Safety Auditorium sponsored by The Booster. This was the climax of a safety campaign that ran the week of April 2-6.

The Glee Club also cut several tapes for the Young America Sings program for WIBC.

Sandy Tucker and Dave Whitson are shown wearing their crowns after being voted "Martha" and "George" of the Cherry Tree Hop, sponsored by the Girls' Glee Club.

Manual's Girls' Glee Club completely fills the stage when it performs. Here they are assisting the Ivian Staff with the annual campaign to promote Ivian sales. They sang a parody to "Jingle Bells" that ended "Buy an Ivian today!" The large Ivian in the background produced samplings from the 1962 yearbook and, of course, included the Glee Club.

'Babes in Arms' Highlights Choir's Year

Christmas carols rang out from voices of the Manual Choir as they sang from a stairway in the State House. Caroling through the downtown area last December, the Choir added to the city's Christmas music program.

Resplendent in new bright red robes, the Manual Choir sang through another melodious year. Hours of rehearsing preceded the highlight of the year, the musical "Babes in Arms." Rex Anderson and Jane Sprague played the lead roles in the Rodgers and Hart production about a frustrated composer and his loving admirer. Directing the Choir through its round of activities was Mr. Wendell Mertz.

At Christmas time the Choir played a large part in the production of "Why the Bells Ring" for the P-TA program and an all-school auditorium. As a holiday break for the year, the Choir again sponsored the "Snow Whirl."

In January, the group performed in the annual Choir-Orchestra Concert carrying out the theme, "Rehearsal for a Concert." Something new, Manual's "Madri-Gals 'n' Guys" appeared in this concert and also in the Indiana State Music Association Solo and Ensemble Contest. Libby Harrison, Karon Johnson, Steve Goad, and Tim Mills entered as soloists in the Contest. Fifteen senior 'choirsters' received music lyres for meritorious service.

"Babes in Arms" cast members pose in the barn where they had a summer theatre. Players are Wayne Monroe, Sue Stephenson, Steve Davis, Fred Vehling, Joy Vornehm, Rex Anderson, Jane Sprague, Carol Schilling, Bob Iverson, and Varnie Smith. Seated on the bale of hay are Steve Richards and Joan Toenjes, while Jan Shives, John Schwartz, Marsha Cummings, Charles Overton, Ruthanne McClain, and Alice Morris gather around the piano.

Orchestra Stars in Concert or 'Pit'

Following the downbeat of Miss Margaret Warner and the upswing of Concert Mistress Sue Steinecker's bow were fifty musicians of Manual's Orchestra. With some 180 daily rehearsals, the group prepared for concerts and contests the year around.

The Choir-Orchestra Concert gave the organization a chance to shine. Members from the Band combined with the string orchestra to present this and all public performances. Transformed into a pit orchestra, they accompanied the musical "Babes in Arms."

Eight musicians were selected for All-City Orchestra and nine played with music students from all over Indiana in the All-State Orchestra. Four-year "lyre" winners were Jackie Hall and Steve Richards. Dennis Eickhoff, Pam Loeblin, Pat Nixon, Sue Steinecker, and Bob Wire also received the traditional chenille lyres for three years of service.

To complete its round of activities, the Orchestra provided music for Senior Vespers.

Tryouts for orchestra chairs are in progress as Miss Margaret Warner checks Connie Goodin playing bass.

It's all eyes on the music and the director as members of Manual's Orchestra practice. The orchestra room is hidden away under the auditorium lobby. Strains of music occasionally drift up cold-air ducts to the library.

Class-related Clubs Provide Ambitious Pupils

Sophomore Lucia Verdouw, a member of the Citizens' League, "shows off" a costume from her native country, Holland. Other members are Oran Hornback, Glada Hornback, Mary Hollcraft, Susan Peters, and Horst Hildebrandt.

Extra-curricular clubs at Manual often have a close association with regular classes. They offer supplementary material to the information presented in classrooms, and give pupils a chance to experiment and put to use the knowledge they received during school.

The Citizens' League, sponsored by Mrs. Jean Howell, is interested in creating a greater insight into Social Studies. Its debates and discussions consider the functions and responsibilities of our government. This year, as a "good neighbor" project, the Citizen's League sent Christmas tree ornaments to Poona, India.

The printing Club of Manual was organized just this year by Mr. Marvin Thorpe, sponsor. The purpose of this club is to acquaint boys interested in investigating printing as a profession with the printing companies in Indianapolis and to let the printers know that Manual is training boys for this career.

Planning a letterhead for their club stationery are Printing Club officers Tom Stipp, first vice-president; Mike Vas Binder, treasurer; Gary Maynard, secretary; Jim Oden, president; and Jim Wallace, second vice-president.

With Extra Learning

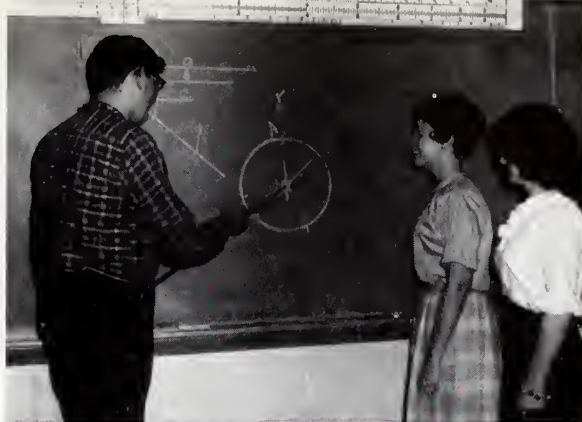

Math Club, the regular Science Club, and the Beginners' Science Club are all closely associated with classroom work. By educationally occupying students' spare time and by creating new interests for them, these clubs serve a dual role: educating their members and sparking creativity and inquisitiveness.

The Math Honor Club is so named because only those students with a "B" or higher grade-average in mathematics may belong. Besides meetings, club members take occasional field trips, like this year's to Allison's Powerama, the Regional Science Fair, and Morris Plan.

Saturday is the designated day for Science Club gatherings. Each member works on a project which he develops at successive meetings. Studies are divided: biology and chemistry.

Freshmen who are interested in Science are invited to join the "new" Beginners' Science Club. This organization develops an interest for science in students who are usually not yet enrolled in a regular science course.

Working on their Saturday mornings' Science Club projects are Linda Wilson, Barbara Stellhorn, JoNell Rugenstein, Susan Peters, Dave Darko, Oran Hornback, Don Miller, and Mauri Kindle. Sponsors are Mr. Ed Wall and Mr. Wayne Dunbar.

During one of their weekly Math Honor Club meetings, Joe O'Brien explains a problem to club members Secretary JoNell Rugenstein and President Susan Peters.

Mr. Charles Hall, beginning Science Club sponsor, watches while freshmen Jan McDaniel and Pat Koopman look at a specimen through the microscope.

FTA's, FNA's 'Sample' Future Vocations

Martha Melton, Judy McBride, and Diana Brownlee, members of the FTA Club, busily make arm bands for the area meeting to which the Manual chapter was host. These girls headed committees for the convention.

Redskins belonging to Future Teachers of America and Future Nurses of America get a preview of possible professions.

Manual's FTA was host to the organization's area meeting and was responsible for registration, welcome, and luncheon. With vigorous campaigning, Martha Melton won the nomination of 2nd vice-president to the state FTA. "Papooseland" was the club's project in the Pow Wow as they learned the tricks of their trade in entertaining young children.

Gaining practical experience in such "nursely" duties as running errands, preparing temperature and blood pressure charts, and feeding patients, some members of the FNA take a serious look at nursing as a vocation by spending volunteer hours at Veterans Administration Hospital as "Candystripers," named such by red and white striped uniforms.

Candy Stripers Jan Shives, Sarah Henson, Faye Taylor, and Sharon Boyer serve new members after a meeting in the Alumni Room. The new girls were treated with homemade cookies and brownies and punch. Those shown at the serving table are Sharon Hogue, Louise Short, Donna Black, Joan Damrell, and Mary Orlasky.

'Twas 'Gift Year' for Tri-Hi-Y, Red Cross

At a party given last semester, Tri-Hi-Y President Linda Schroeder and sponsor Mrs. Jean Shelton explain the club emblem to initiates Pat Taylor and Nancy Lagle.

Two Manual clubs that specialize in service to others are Tri-Hi-Y and Junior Red Cross.

After hearing a representative of the National Secretary Association, the Tri-Hi-Y decided to purchase a typewriter for Central Hospital to be used in occupational therapy classes. The group sold candy to pay for the typewriter. In April the girls participated in the Model U.N. at the State House with Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y members from other city schools and schools in Marion County. The club, sponsored by Mrs. Jean Shelton, had a booth at the Pow Wow. The money earned was used to buy a present for the school.

With an accumulation of money in their treasury, the Junior Red Cross asked Miss Virginia Edds, school nurse, for suggestions of a way to spend it to benefit the school. The result was a new wheelchair to be used by the nurse's office for such emergencies as illnesses and accidents. The group is sponsored by Mrs. Louise Plummer, a former Manualite.

Junior Red Cross officers discuss with Mrs. Louise Plummer, their sponsor, what they will buy for the school with their "wealth." Linda Hutchinson, club treasurer, points out an item she likes to Bob Bauer, Stephanie Huston, secretary; Mrs. Plummer, Jane Newman, president; Carol Land, Indianapolis chapter delegate; and Shiela Bush.

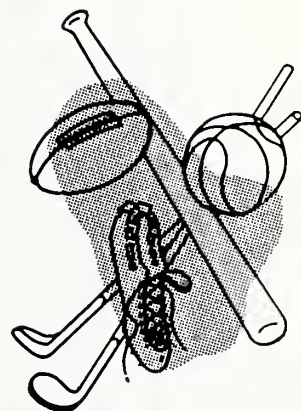

Mind, Hand, and Heart

Our athletic program includes all of us. Of course, only fixed members can actively participate on varsity teams; but the rest of us are right there too, using lung power and "heart" to push on to victory with good spirit and sportsmanship.

"Fight 'em fair! Fight 'em square!" we yell enthusiastically, meaning it with all our hearts.

ATHLETICS

'Rompin' Redskins End Grid Season 6-2-1

Chuck Dennison prepares to cross the line for the Manual Redskins during action in the Shortridge grid tilt.

With a fine season record of six wins, two losses, and one tie, Manual gridgers, under Coach Noah Ellis, made the 1961 campaign exciting to follow. Finishing third in city competition, the Redskins at one point had an eight-game winning streak before being downed by Cathedral. With Dave Whitson at the helm, and an experienced backfield behind him, the Redskins outscored their opponents almost 2 to 1 (221 points to 114.) Two players finished high in the scoring: Fullback Ron Cooper had 57 points and Halfback Chuck Dennison, 50. Both placed on the All-City teams as did Tackle Jerry Cummins.

The season started with a bang. The Redskins handily tucked their first three opponents under their war bonnet with some pretty high scores. Sacred Heart was the first to fall, 26-21. They were followed closely by Washington's toppling 21-0.

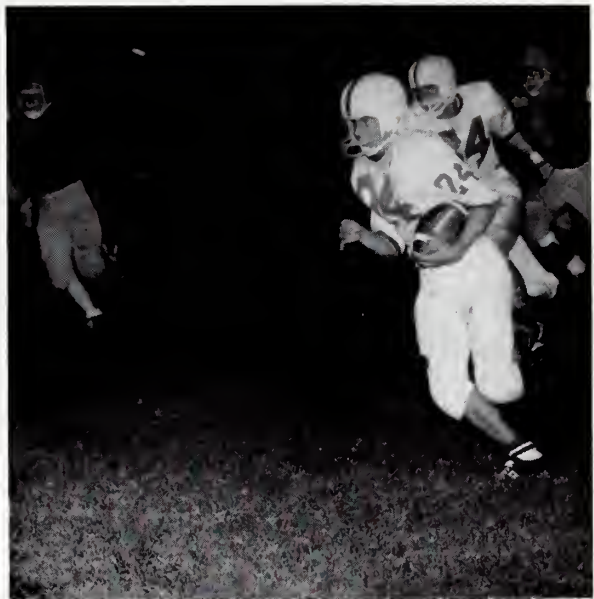

Twirlers from the award-winning Redskin Marching Band huddle together in their Indian blankets to keep warm during a late season game. Looking thrilled with the action on the field are Sharron Jones, Alice Morris, Nancy Wolford, Janelle Wiese, Carol Stevenson, Anthea Salsbury, Connie Mudd, Sandy Tucker and Billi Daley.

To Place Third in City Action

The Howe Hornets were opponents for Manual's Homecoming. With a large crowd viewing the festivities, which saw a fine half-time show, including the crowning of King Rex Hedegard and Queen Jackie Hall, the team elated the crowd by trouncing the Hornets 48-0 with many reserves getting into the play.

The first defeat came at the hands of city champs Cathedral, 13-0, in a showdown battle at Victory Field before 8,000 onlookers. The Irish went on from here to an undefeated season, blemished only by a tie. Southport came next, and staged a comeback 21-13 victory before the usual large crowd for these rivals. Ben Davis gave little resistance in a 34-0 game. Broad Ripple gave Manual the only tie of the season, 26-26. The last two encounters closed the season on the winning trail, with Shortridge downed 33-20, and Wood defeated 20-13, a fitting climax for our thirteen senior gridders.

Jerry Schnitzius gains valuable yardage for the Redmen in the Howe game as End Ray Swinford trails the play.

Seniors Stand Out; Reserves Close, 6-2

Manual standouts of the season came from that all senior backfield with Whitson, Dennison, and Cooper receiving high praise for their talents afoot. In the big line, Chuck Creasser and Jerry Cummins set up a good front to make the big scores possible. Ray Swinford and Jerry Schnitzius both made Honorable Mention listings on City teams.

The grid season proved successful also for Coach Jack Johns' reserve squad, which sported a 6-2 mark. They lost only to Wood, 6-0, and to Broad Ripple, 13-6.

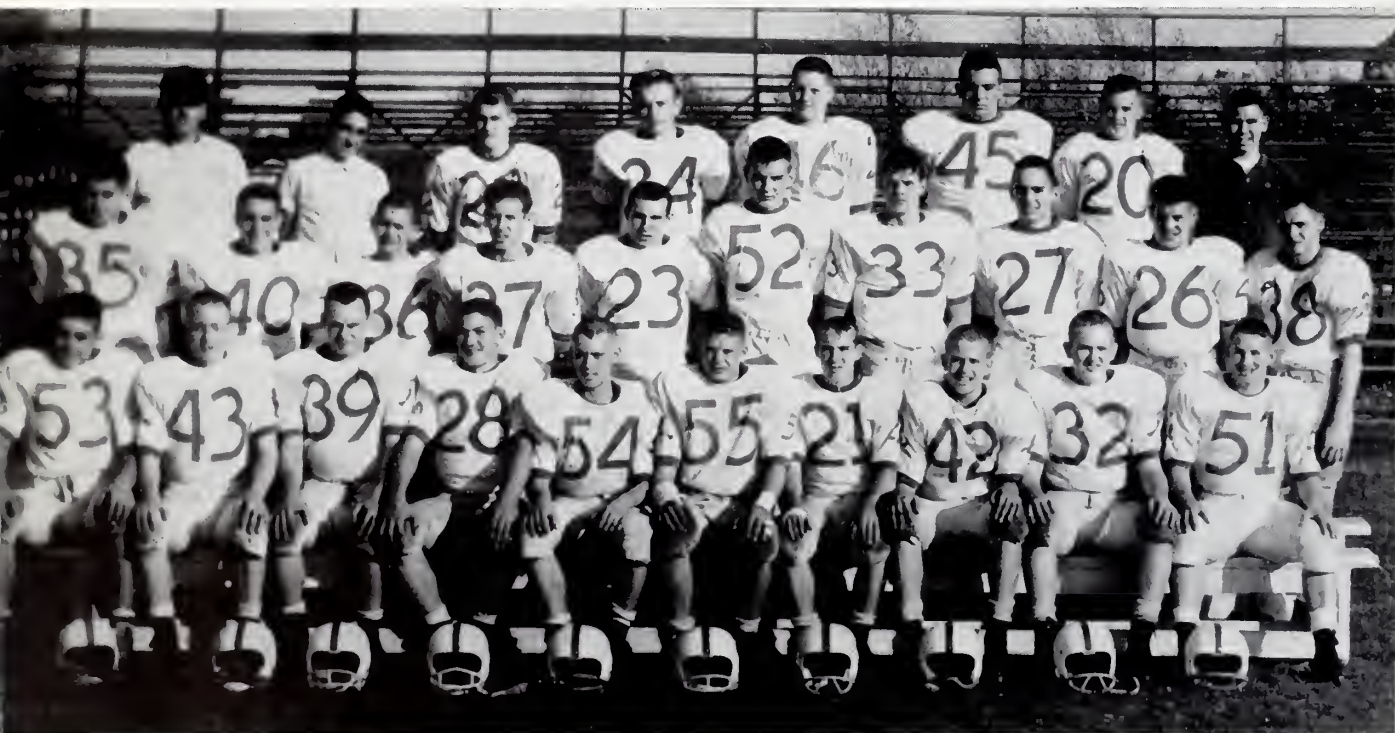

The Freshman season posed a different story with Coach Lou Parnell's team winning only one game, a 13-12 tilt with Howe.

Quarterback Dave Whitson tallies a PAT as he scampers into the end zone standing up in the Shortridge game.

Crowds Reflect Cheersters' Pep

Adding to the sparkle and gaiety of the football and basketball seasons, the cheerleaders help boost the spirits of both fans and teams. In victory or defeat, the cheerleaders and the Pep Club, sponsored by Mrs. Thelma Morgan, Director of Activities, spark student and patron spectators in enthusiasm and sportsmanship. This year the varsity cheerleaders visited with the cheering squad of the Blind School to help them learn yells and routines. Several attended summer camps.

Both Varsity and Reserve cheersters are chosen for their appearance, ability to work, and personality. The Pep Club has periodic practice sessions after school to work on new yells and gestures to provide entertainment. They also sponsor skits to produce the needed spark at pep rallies.

Harriers Win City, Place Ninth in State

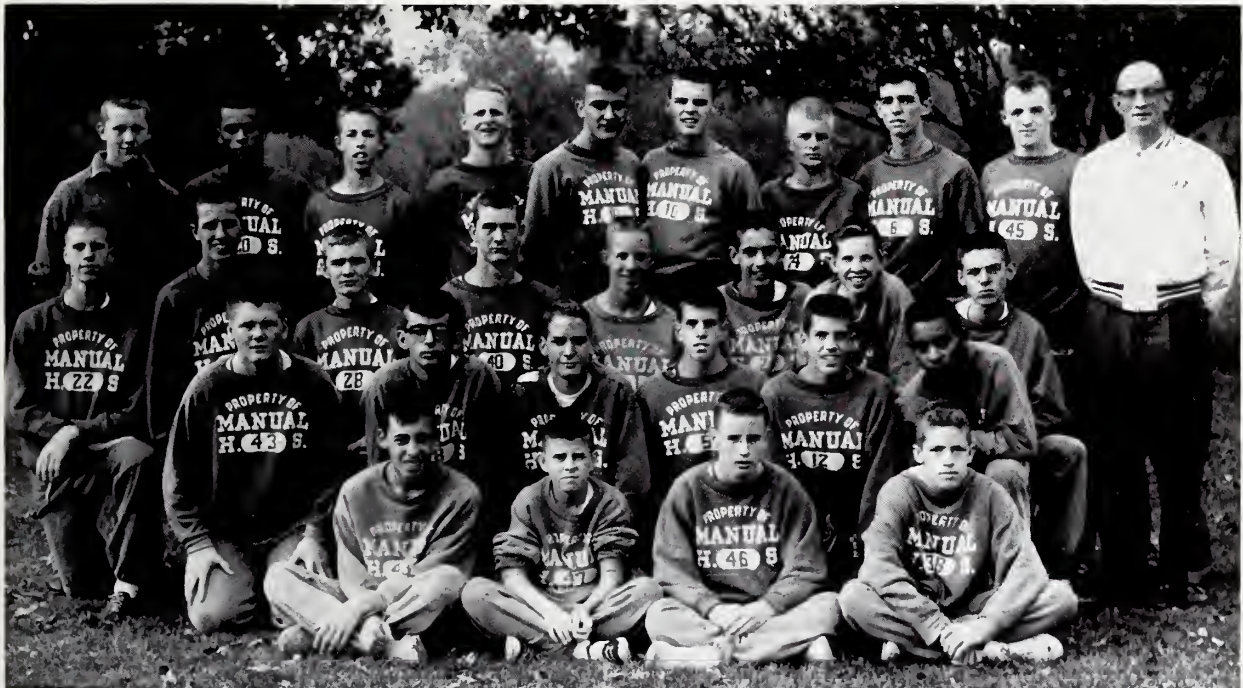

This seven man team represented Manual in the State Meet—Kenny Collins, Steve Sudler, Mark Zaenglein, Tom McLaughlin, Scott Hartman, Steve Richards, and Leon Carter.

The Harriers under the direction of Coach Jack Foster started the season with a dual win over Broad Ripple and North Central. Next came the Washington Invitational, in which the 'Skins placed sixth.

The team participated in the Southport Invitational, finishing third in a field of twelve. The Redskin pacer, Leon Carter, placed sixth in that event. Leon also placed first, besting 74 other runners, in the Howe Invitational, in which the Redskins finished third. The team cinched the City Meet with Leon Carter running second in this event. Another "first" for Leon was in the Shortridge Invitational. He bested 639 other runners, and the team placed fourth.

Leon set a new course record of 9:54.3 at the Sectional meet at South Grove, with the 'Skins placing third. The team went on to finish ninth in a State field of 24 schools.

Manual Wrestlers Show 'Class' in Ring

Junior Dave Hopwood prepares to slap his foe on the mat as the referee gives them his "divided" attention.

This year Manual's varsity wrestling team finished the season with a fine 7-4-1 showing. The Redskins were only beaten by Franklin Central, County Champ Ben Davis, Cathedral, and Shortridge. Manual also tied arch-rival Southport. Coach Jack Foster led his squad to fifth place in the city meet where they tallied 39 points. Teams in front of Manual were Shortridge, Broad Ripple, Washington, and Cathedral. Richard Monday and Mike Wiley both won the individual championships of their respective weight classes. Monday won the 95-pound crown. Mike, state champ last year, was ailing during the sectional and was beaten by Southport's Dave Westerfield. Westerfield was runner-up to Mike last year in the state tournament. Monday, however, is only a junior and will be back to defend his laurels next year. Finishing fourth in the city meet were Senior Ron Cooper and Sophomore Lee Gadiant.

The Reserves also tallied a fine season, running their record to 9-2. They won the City Meet with a score of 84 points. Manual's individual city champs were Lester Lull, Jim Brooks, and John Farmer. The frosh had a winning season, finishing fourth with Jerry Lewis and Ed Wood holding weight titles.

Best Team's in the 'Red,' as New Coach,

Look Mom! No face! Rex Hedegard gets into trouble with two Tech Titans as they tower over him. Paul Switzer pulls up ready to help him out of a tight spot.

The Manual Redskins, losing their height last year, were in the midst of a building period this season under the direction of Coach "Dee" Compton. The netters were hurt by the loss of their last year's starting five. Manual saw only three wins in sixteen starts in regular season play. We defeated Bloomington, Ben Davis, and Arlington. The Redmen extended such teams as Cathedral, North Central, Wood, Howe, and Warren Central.

Coach Compton guided his boys to an exciting overtime victory in the first stage of the Sectional tournament by defeating the Tigers of Greenfield, 64-57. The Comptonmen thus were qualified to return for a second round in the Sectional contest. The Roundballers met Washington, but were defeated, 69-53.

New Starters Build

Although the record doesn't look too good, we were proud of our team. Next year has good possibilities with only two graduating.

Lacking guards, Bill Jones goes after a loose ball as two Tech Titans look on the single action. Dick Hedegard and Leon Carter run up the side to get into position.

B's, Good! Frosh, Better! — Here's Hopin'

Looks like a game of pass between Leon Carter and Dick Hedegard. Cornell Short stands ready to lend a hand as soon as fast play starts again.

The Reserves of '61-'62 completed their basketball season with a flashy 9-10 record. Coach Woody McBride will look forward to new material next season since many of these boys will be moving on. With a big center and fast team Manual anticipates a great season.

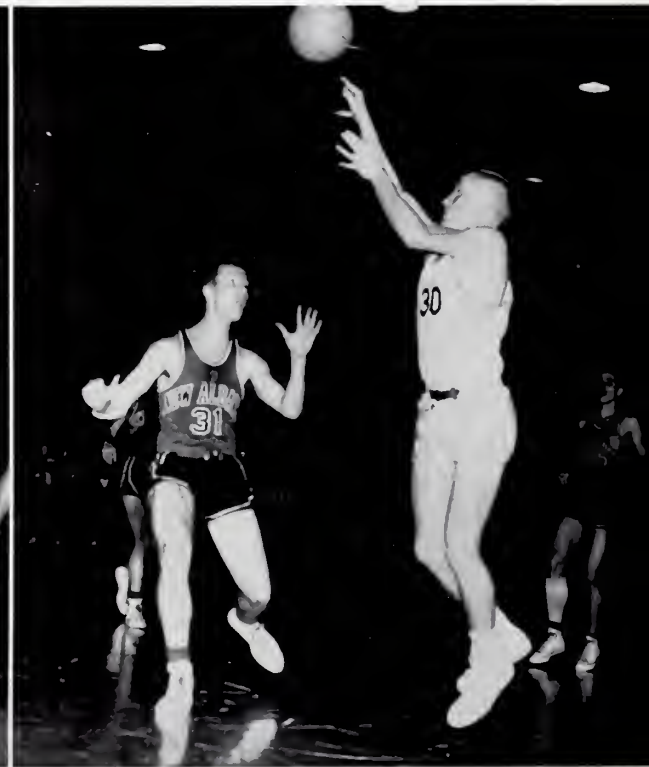

The "B" team defeated such big teams as Cathedral, New Albany, Shortridge, and Wood. Beating Wood was actually revenge since Wood had downed Manual in the City Tourney.

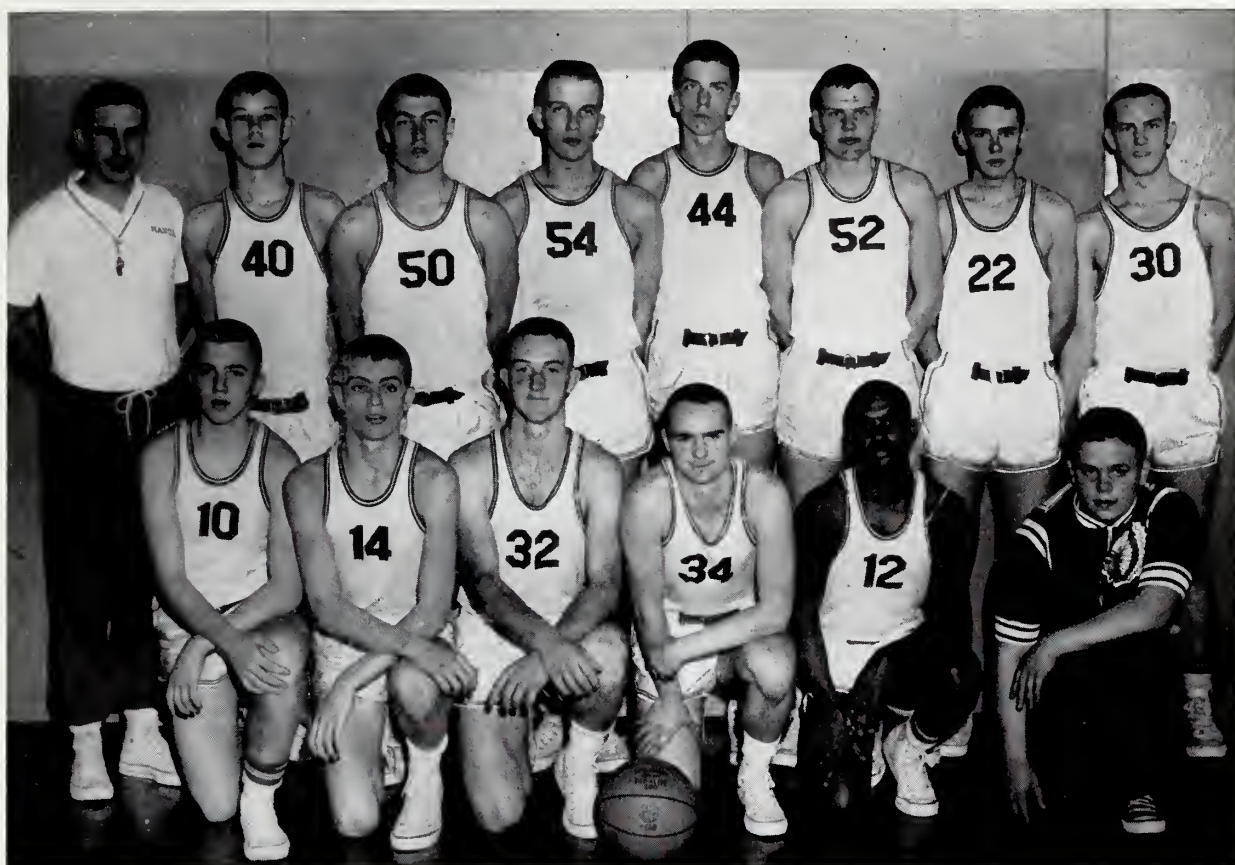

Coach Harold Bennett has brought fame to the entire Manual field with a sizzling 15-4 record. The 'Skins tore up their schedule losing only to Washington, Broad Ripple, and Wood. Washington downed them a second time in the finals of the City Tourney. John Berry, student manager, helped the team by taking care of the boys' equipment. Mr. Bennett will receive a new crop from the neighboring grade schools next year.

Paul Switzer runs into trouble as three Tech boys close in on him. Roger Wathen is ready to assist.

Golfers, Racketmen Post Slow Seasons

The Redskin Linksters closed the '61 golf season with a record of 4-10. Manual downed Wood (twice), Franklin, and Ben Davis. Teams who defeated the 'Skins were Speedway, Southport, Howe, North Central, Sacred Heart, Lawrence Central, Washington, Scena, Broad Ripple, and Warren Central. Terry McDonnell was the only boy lost through graduation. Coach Oral Bridgford predicted that the '62 spring season would provide better results.

The Racketmen of 1961 finished the spring session tallying a record of six wins and nine losses. Rick Seyfried, '61 graduate, captured the runner-up title in the City Tournament, playing in the number five position. Other '61 graduates were John Hurt, Ray Seyfried, and Bill Bloemker.

'Gem'-men Round Bases for Eight Wins

The Redskin Varsity Diamondmen under the direction of Mr. Gene Harvey posted an eight-win and nine-loss record for the 1961 season. Roger Wright, '61 grad, pitched a five-win, four-loss game record. Other '61 graduates, Jim Cummings, third baseman, and Armen Cobb, catcher, finished the season with batting percentages of .423 and .370, respectively. Manual hitters tallied one home run, six triples, and nine doubles during the season. The Reserve squad and Freshman tallied 8-4 and 3-3 records in that order.

An experienced group of cindermen under Coach Francis "Mo" Moriarty, came through the '61 track season with a great 10-win, 2-loss record. The high points of the season were a second place finish in the sectional meet, a ninth in regional competition, and the VanArsdale twins' placing in the State meet at Tech. Dick qualified for the big "run" by placing second in the high hurdles and fourth in the shot. Brother Tom came in with fourth in low hurdles and third in the shot put.

Records fell by the wayside with five new marks going on the boards. Leon Carter bettered the 880-yard run with a new time of 1:58.6. Tom VanArsdale topped his own marks with a low hurdle time of 20.2 seconds and a 6 feet 4½ inch leap in the high-jump. Dick VanArsdale bettered the shot put mark with a heave of 53-11¼, and set a new high hurdle time of 15 seconds. With only five boys graduating the future looks good for Manual's thinly clad. The '61 graduates were Mike Armistead, Charles Davis, Dave Scheib, and Tom and Dick Van Arsdale.

The Frosh, under Coach Noah Ellis, compiled a 7-2, losing to Howe and Southport.

Tricky business this, getting all six-feet five-inches over the high-jump bar without dislodging it. Tom VanArsdale and then Dick VanArsdale clear the bar at over 6 feet. Dave Scheib nears the string as he leads a Howe Hornet down the home stretch. Redskin Roger Wathan is coming in third.

Reserve Cheerleaders in formation are Jane Sprague, Joy Vornehm, Jeanne Fletcher, and Beverly Porter.

'B' Teams, Frosh Boast Pretty 'Fans'

Manualites like to support Redskin teams. Reserve Cheerleaders are prepared to lead the fans in yells during reserve contests. They follow the football B-team through the season and help the Varsity Cheerleaders whenever they are needed. This year Reserves pinch-hit for the Varsity during the Homecoming celebration, since all but two of the Varsity Squad were Homecoming Queen Candidates and were all dolled up in formal attire. During basketball season, Reserves take care of the fans who arrive early for the Curtain Raiser. They also assist with the Pep Club.

Freshmen are enthusiastic about being cheerleaders as the squad of eight below would indicate. Getting freshmen fans off to a good start by instructing them in Manual yells, they stir up spirit at the Rhinie games.

Intramurals Attract Fun-loving Redskins

Junior Kathleen Francis (top picture) shows correct posture with the bow and arrow. Below, Diannah Palmer, also a junior, removes an arrow from the bullseye—the goal for all archers. Both were active in intramurals.

Many sports-minded girls participate in the diversified intramural program which consists of after-school sports on Mondays and Fridays. Fall and winter sports include archery, basketball, and volleyball. The spring sports are softball, badminton, tennis, and golf. Tournaments usually close the season for each of these sports, which are sponsored by Miss Theo Parr and Miss Elena Raglin, girls' physical education instructors.

"Coed" bowling through the winter months is sponsored by Mr. Gene Harvey on Tuesdays.

Boys' intramural basketball has a large following. Fellows make up their own teams which keep the gym rocking Tuesday nights. A spring tournament provides keen competition. Mr. Harvey also sponsors this activity.

Boys active in intramurals work off steam in fast-moving games of basketball, like the one pictured below.

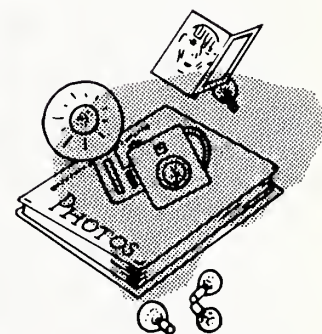

Mind, Hand, and Heart

Some 2,200 of us—pupils, teachers, staff—live and work together throughout each school day of the year. We have busy times, gay times, and, sometimes, even sad times; but in the bond of being Manualites we are linked to one another.

We love our “family album” because here we have the faces of all our classmates and friends.

ALBUM

Principal C. Edgar Stahl discusses plans for the $400,000 addition to Manual, which is to be started in summer, 1962, with Vice-principals E. Franklin Fisher and Noble Poole.

Our Faculty Invest Mind, Hand, Heart

Manual faculty members, some 110 of them, indulge us with time, energies, and interest to help each of us gain as broad and deep an education as he is capable of assimilating. They inspire us to do our best and encourage us to go "just one step further." As counselors they are wise and far-sighted, and we gain by heeding their advice and judgment. Sponsoring clubs, directing activities, and working behind-the-scenes on student productions, they add much to our extra-curricular program. Many of us become fast friends with these "real" people, who truly invest Minds, Hands, and Hearts for Manual.

Class of '62 Crowds Year with Activity

Helping entertain faculty at the Senior-Faculty tea were Ron Cooper, Class Secretary Jackie Hall, Vice-president Sandy Tucker, and President Dave Whitson.

Hoping to cram as much activity and learning as possible into their last year at Manual, nearly 350 seniors spent much of 1961-1962 thinking ahead to college or a business career. On Senior Day, October 18, the "Class of '62" pinned on armbands and roses to officially mark the beginning of activities. The seniors chose the motto "Try Your Best—Achieve Success." In November, the members of the class took over the jobs of teachers and administrators for Turn-About Day. Freshmen were the guests of seniors at the annual Christmas party in the Cafeteria. Santa Claus (Bob Wetzel) was present to hear the Christmas Eve wishes of the "rhinies" and to hand out presents. The Senior Council members entertained the faculty and administration at a Valentine Tea, February 9. The year ends with Commencement exercises and the Senior Prom the next night at the Indiana Roof Ball Room.

Senior Council members Cheryl Osborne, Sharon Chenoweth, Jackie Hittle, Faye Taylor, Mark Zaenglein, and Jim Hamner were in charge at the annual Senior-Faculty Tea, February 9. They also act as sub-treasurers for the Senior Class.

Junior Prom Time!

Dancing to the theme of "Stardust," last year's Junior Class enjoyed that long-awaited occasion—the Junior Prom—April 22 at the Indiana University Medical Center. Table decorations of styrofoam stars, decorated with silver glitter and red "M's" carried out the theme. The traditional frozen punch bowl was the main feature of the serving table. The bowl was on display in the Cafeteria the following Monday. Queen Jackie Hall and King Ron Cooper were crowned half way through the dance, and led off the coronation dance. Mr. J. Ray Johnson, head junior class sponsor, was general chairman of the night. Junior homeroom teachers served as chaperones. Parents of class officers were also invited.

Jim Hamner, Rex Hedegard, Dave Whitson, Sharon Jones, Mary Cromwell, and Sandy Tucker—the royal court at the Junior Prom—surround the crowned couple, Queen Jackie Hall and King Ron Cooper, honored at intermission.

Decorations for the Annual Snow Whirl, Christmas Formal sponsored by the Concert Choir, always include snowmen. Alice Morris and Joan Toenjes ready white bells and miniature snowmen in preparation for decorating the Cafeteria for their "big night," December 16.

Prom Climaxes Year for Class of '63

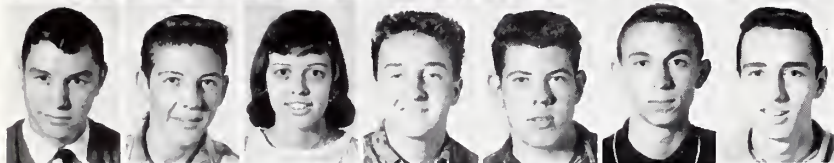

Junior class officers, Jan Buzzard, vice-president; Carol Maier, secretary, Phil Steele, president; and Dave Morris, treasurer, give class dues to Mr. J. Ray Johnson, sponsor.

Happy with their newly acquired status as "upperclassmen," approximately 550 juniors came back to Manual in September determined to make the most of their next two years. Junior recognition day, February 28, classmembers brightened the halls with "dressy" dresses, and ivy-league suits topped off with red or white carnations. This was the day when ten juniors were honored as "tops" in their class. Continuing a long-standing tradition, the juniors decorated the Christmas tree in the main hall. This year, however, the tree was sprayed with snow and hung with red balls. Juniors danced at the Butler Atherton Center on May 5 — the Junior Prom. Class officers were Phil Steele, president; Jan Buzzard, vice-president; Carol Maier, secretary; and Dave Morris, treasurer.
